Train with a burning fryer

This Add-On will allow you to use your FireWare Vesta for simulating various different kitchen incidents. What would you say to using a lid on a burning frying pan? But you can also safely show the effects of what will happen if you still attempt to extinguish a grease fire with water.

The Add-On Fryer is a mock-up of a fryer which can be positioned on top of the FireWare Vesta. Naturally completely made of top quality stainless steel. The Add-On Fryer is supplied in a plastic crate for storage and transport.

The FireWare Vestas flames go through the bottom of the pan, allowing for the safe simulation of a flash in the pan. The accompanying lid can be used to practice the extinguishing procedures. A tray for the real fat is also supplied, ensuring an actual grease fire can be created.

The instructor can remotely add a certain amount of water to the grease fire for demonstration purposes. This will be done with a chain and drop mechanism. A large fire ball will be the direct result and instantly provide the students with the insight that water isnt always the best means of extinguishing a fire, when this happens to be a grease fire in the kitchen.
